The tune "Emma's Dance" from my previous album "Polly Phony" contains a short part where I play my old flute from my childhood. I thought this part sounded so good that I decided to take up flute playing again. I bought a bunch of new flutes (recorders) and started playing.

The idea for this album was that every tune should contain a bit of flute. I managed to keep this idea for 10 out of 12 tunes (the c64 tune obviously can't contain a real flute :). In some tunes the flute is the main instrument while in others it is a smaller part. I think I've used 5 or 6 different flutes but my favorite is the Moeck Rondo Alto pearwood recorder that I've used the most.

Another new thing for this album is a Yamaha DD75 mini electric drum kit with additional real foot pedals. This is used on 11 of 12 tracks (but not the internal sound). This kit is not perfect but in my limited space it's a good solution for real drum playing.

The guitar you hear most often is my favorite old trusty Squier Strat and the bass is my Danelectro Longhorn (the bass seen used by the Italian eurovision winner "Måneskin"). Reaper is used for recording, Ensoniq SQ1 plus for keys.

The tunes were recorded between 2018 and 2022 in the following order:

2018

- Springtime
- Kraftikon
- Va?
- Ba-rock
- Amur, the dragon river

2019

- Silver
- Analog Power 2

2020

- Drive 8

2021

- En dikt från köket

2022

- Tur man bor i Sverige
- Rondo
- The Robotic Rock Opera Hymn

About the tune "Analog Power 2"

When I had made this new tune I suddenly realized the similarity to the beginning of "Analog Power" from "Boray plays some guitar" from year 1999-2000. So I put this part from Analog power 1 in the beginning of the new tune and also changed the key of the beginning to match the part. A good connection from one "Boray plays some..." to another one 20 years later.

Lyrics: En dikt från köket

Jobbat på projektet.
Chefen va från vettet.
Jag har ont i nacken.
Det var alltså tacken.

Baka baka pizza.
Vill man inte missa.
Smulor som blir över.
Litet barn behöver.

Spara spara pengar.
Skaffa nya sängar.
Sover ju i köket.
Mitt i bland allt stöket.

English translation:

A Poem from the Kitchen

Worked at the project.
The boss was out of his mind.
My neck hurts.
So that was the thanks.

Baking baking pizza.
Don't want to miss that.
Crumbs that are left over.
Toddler needs.

Save save money.
Get new beds.
Sleeping in the kitchen.
In the middle of all the mess.

Lyrics: Tur man bor i Sverige

Tur man bor i Sverige
och inte i nåt annat land.

Tur man bor i Sverige
och inte i nåt annat land.

Tur man bor i Sverige
och inte i nåt annat land.

Tur man bor i Sverige
och inte i nåt bombat land.

Tur man bor i Sverige
och inte i nåt grönsaksland.

Tur man bor i Sverige
och inte i på ruinens brant.

English translation:

Lucky to live in Sweden
and not in some other country.

Lucky to live in Sweden
and not in some other country.

Lucky to live in Sweden
and not in some other country.

Lucky to live in Sweden
and not in some bombed country.

Lucky to live in Sweden
and not in some vegetable patch.

Lucky to live in Sweden
and not on the brink of ruin.

About the tune “Drive 8”

This is my first Commodore 64 tune in 30 years. It was made in SID-Wizard on my old Commodore 64C that I got for Christmas in 1987. And I've not only made the tune - I've made all of the instruments from scratch as well. It's recorded from the C64 and there was no additional processing. This is 100% 8580 SID.

I have also painted quite a bit on the C64 in 2021-2022.
